SECOND ANNUAL LAND CLAIMS WEEK

The Second Annual Land Claims Week will be held this year during the week of 21 March. Last year, the Land Claims Week focussed on the issues surrounding the settlement of Native land claims in the Northwest Territories. This year, Land Claims Week will present speakers from many native groups in Canada, including groups in Alberta, Northern Ontario, the Yukon, and the Northwest Territories, as well as other knowledgeable persons who will discuss land claims and resources development across Canada and in other parts of the world.

Noon hour forums will be held each day in the Students' Union Theatre; Friday's forum will be held in Lister Hall. There will also be a public forum on Thursday evening, 24 March at 7:30 p.m. at the Native Friendship Centre, 10176 117 Street, and a teach-in at Lister Hall on Friday, 25 March, from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m., which will focus on the problems of native people in Alberta and the activities of local native organizations. On Friday evening a Metis dance with fiddle dancing, jigs, and reels will be held in the Dinwoodie Lounge, starting at 8 p.m. All of the Land Claims Week activities are free of charge.

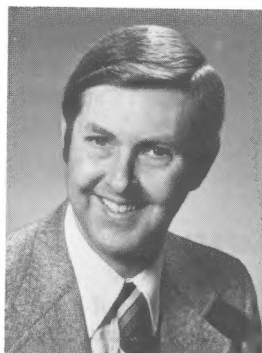

The Second Annual Land Claims Week is sponsored by the University Committee in Support of Native Peoples, the Canadian Studies Committee, the Native Students' Club, the University Parish, the Alberta Energy Coalition, and the Special Events Program of the Students' Union.

SPRING SESSION FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

During Spring Session, senior citizens will have the opportunity to attend a wide variety of special courses sponsored by the Faculty of Extension and the Society for the Retired and Semi-Retired.

All residents of Alberta sixty-five years of age and over and their spouses, who may not be sixty-five, are eligible to attend. Priority will be given to senior citizens who reside north of Red Deer. In the event of an extraordinarily large number of registrants, it may be necessary to give some priority to people who have not attended previous sessions.

Free rooms, on a weekly basis, will be

APPOINTMENTS

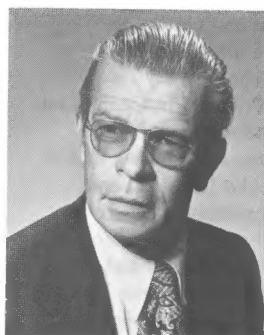

Gary D. Prideaux, Associate Professor of Linguistics, has been appointed Chairman of that Department, effective immediately. Dr. Prideaux joined the University in 1966 as an Assistant Professor; last year, he became Acting Chairman. He received a BA in 1961 from Rice University and a PhD in Linguistics from the University of Texas in 1966. Dr. Prideaux has published a number of articles, presented papers at numerous conferences and learned meetings, and during 1967-68 he was a Fulbright-Hays Lecturer at Tottori University in Japan. Much of his early research centred around the Japanese language, and he is the author of The Syntax of Japanese Honorifics. His later research has been concerned with syntactic theory and experimental psycholinguistics.

Patricia A. McFetridge, Professor of Elementary Education, will become Chairman of that Department on 1 July. Dr. McFetridge graduated from Moose Jaw Normal School in 1949 and later earned degrees from the Universities of Saskatchewan and Minnesota, receiving a PhD from the latter in 1966. In 1960 she was chosen the most distinguished graduate of the University of Saskatchewan's College of Education. Before joining the University in 1965, she taught elementary school in Saskatchewan and instructed at the Universities of Saskatchewan and Minnesota. Dr. McFetridge has served on Alberta Education committees investigating language arts and reading; for two years she was Editor of The Alberta Journal of Educational Research and for four years was Chairman of the Editorial Board of the journal Elements.

John Tartar, Professor of Computing Science, will become Chairman of that Department on 1 July. Currently Acting Chairman, Dr. Tartar holds degrees in electrical engineering from Oklahoma State and Arizona State Universities, with a PhD from the latter in 1967. Before joining the University in 1969, he served for eight years as a Research Director for Rockwell Corporation. Active in the Institute for Electrical and Electronic Engineers and the Association for Computing Machinery, for which he was National Lecturer for 1973-76, he is also a member of the NRC Grant Selection Committee for Information and Computing Science. Dr. Tartar serves on the Engineering Faculty Council and the Computer Facilities and Policy Committee. Currently, he is involved in the preparation of a text, Computer Organization and Electronics.

J. E. Seger, Professor of Educational Administration, will become Chairman of that Department on 1 July. Dr. Seger holds a BSc in Education from Oregon State University and an MEd and PhD from the University of Oregon. He has been a classroom teacher and a county school superintendent as well as Director of Research and Evaluation at the Northwest Regional Educational Laboratory in Oregon and a Consultant to the US Office of Education. He has served on a number of University committees and in 1972-73 was Codirector of the Kellogg Project on College Administration. Currently involved in two research projects funded by Alberta Education, he also serves on the Executive of the Greater Edmonton Regional Council on School Administration.

available to a limited number of out-of-town registrants. Rooms are located in Lister Hall within walking distance of classes. There are cafeterias in Lister Hall and the Students' Union Building where participants may purchase their meals from an à la carte menu. Transportation rebates are available for out-of-town participants. Rebates will be based on Greyhound bus fares. The Senior Citizens' Campus Centre is a drop-in centre in the Students' Union Building and will be available as a place for senior citizens to relax. Resource persons will be on hand to answer questions and give directions and information on campus activities.

Many courses will be offered this Spring Session. However, prospective students should note that registrations in most classes will be limited and that to attend a class registration is mandatory. Among the courses to be offered are two courses on writing fiction or non-fiction for pleasure; a sampling of American and Canadian novels of this century; T'ai Chi Ch'uan, the ancient Chinese exercise which incorporates body movement and mental concentration; a two-week study of various religions with an emphasis placed on the Eastern religions; and an introduction to the understanding and enjoyment of music.

Social activities planned for the session include a dinner and dance at Lister Hall on 5 May, a performance of Same Time Next Year at the Citadel on 12 May, and a concert by the Camerata Trio on 13 May.

For further information and a brochure on the session, telephone 432-3033 or write Spring Session for Senior Citizens, 228 Corbett Hall, the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta T6G 2G4.

APPOINTMENT

Peter L. Lindsay, Senior Lecturer in the Department of Human Movement Studies and Sub-Dean of the Faculty of Education at the University of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia, will become Chairman of the Department of Physical Education on 1 July. Dr. Lindsay received his MA in 1967 and his PhD in 1969 from this University; from 1970 to 1972, he was an Associate Professor of Physical Education here. In Australia, he had received his Teachers' Training College Certificate, Diploma in Physical Education, Certificate in Education, and BA, the latter three from the University of Queensland. He spent a year as Assistant Professor at Dalhousie University. Some of his research deals with the various aspects of the development of sport in Canada and physical education in Australia; Dr. Lindsay is also studying playground game characteristics of Brisbane primary school children and is making a study of body attitudes in Chaucer's Canterbury Tales. THE BREAKTHRU DREAM

A one-evening seminar will be held for laymen and professionals on the new concept of the "Breakthru Dream." The seminar will be conducted by Joseph Hart and Dominic Cirincione of the Centre for Feeling Therapy based in California.

The "Breakthru Dream" is a dream which is more real than symbolic, provides a true picture of how the dreamer feels, and shows what the dreamer's life feels like and what it has been and can be. Thus, the "dream" becomes a powerful psychological tool for growth. Means of instigating this type of "dream" and its implications for growth and development will be discussed.

The seminar will be held 25 March from 7 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. The fee is $8. For those wishing to explore this concept more fully and to work on their own dreams, there will be a one-day seminar from 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. on 26 March. The fee for those people wishing to take part in both the evening seminar and the one-day follow-up is $45. All fees are payable in 228 Corbett Hall. Additional information is available by calling 432-5069.

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATORS' COURSE

From 3 to 15 July, the second annual Senior University Administrators' Course will be held at the University of Western Ontario's School of Business Administration. The program, which is conducted in cooperation with the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada and the Canadian Association of University Business Officers, is supported by a five-year grant to develop teaching materials and subsidize fees from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and is supplemented by a two-year research grant from the Richard and Jean Ivey Fund.

The program will feature case studies of actual situations occurring on Canadian campuses, and the staff of the program, joined by guest speakers, will cover such topics as management in the public arena, financial administration, planning, and control, and labor relations and organizational behavior.

The fee for the course, which includes instruction, classroom materials, and lodging and meals, is $575, due on 3 July. The application deadline is 1 April. Further information and application forms can be obtained from Joseph DiStefano, Director of the Senior University Administrators' Course, Office of Management Programs, School of Business Administration, The University of Western Ontario, London, Ontario N6A 3K7, telephone 519-679-3909 or 519-679-3225.

SURPLUS EQUIPMENT LISTING

The equipment listed below has been declared surplus. If your department is interested in any of this surplus equipment, please get in touch with the declaring department and arrange a satisfactory price. Once you have arrived at a price, make up a purchase requisition showing the account to be charged, and forward the requisition to the Purchasing Department. Arrangements for the transfer will then be made.

All departments are encouraged to dispose of surplus equipment. This disposal is accomplished by completing a surplus equipment declaration form and forwarding it to the Purchasing Department. Proceeds from such disposals are normally credited to the accounts from which the equipment was originally purchased; however, this not not always the case. For further information and details on the disposal of surplus equipment, telephone Bonnie O'Dwyer or Roy Bennett at 432-3208.
